

György VÁRALLYAY

(Hungary)

E-mail: g.varallyay@rissac.hu

Member of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences (1998), Research Professor Emeritus of the Institute for Soil Sciences and Agricultural Chemistry, Centre for Agricultural Research of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences; Honorary member of the International Union of Soil Sciences (IUSS). Internationally accepted scientific results presented in more than 600 scientific papers (300 in foreign languages) and more than 20 book chapters, and teaching in the field of chemical soil mapping; hydrophysical properties and moisture regime of soils; soil degradation processes (with special regard to salinization/sodification); environmental vulnerability of soils; control of soil processes. Széchenyi-Prize (2004), Doctor honoris causa of the Gödöllő University (1996).