Jan Kuchtík (23. 6. 1958) and I am a professor of Animal Husbandry at Mendel University in Brno. My specializations are breeding of small ruminants and alternative farming. Overall, I have published (author or co-author) 24 articles in journals with IF and 40 articles in peer-reviewed journals. At present I participate in two projects within the Czech Grant Agency. Regularly I take part in scientific conferences in the Czech Republic and abroad (Godollo etc.). At present I am at our university a guarantor of Master's degree in Agribusiness. I am a member of several scientific boards (Research Institute in Rapotín etc.) and committees (in Czech Agriculture University in Prague etc.). I also regularly taught in Erasmus teaching mobility abroad (Dronten, Konya, Wroclaw etc.).
