

László MIKLÓS

(Slovakia)

E-mail: miklos@tuzvo.sk

Head of the UNESCO-Chair for sustainable development and ecological awareness at the TU Zvolen, senior scientist on the Institute of Landscape Ecology of the SAS, Bratislava. Researcher in landscape ecology, landscape planning, ecological networks, physical and regional geography, environmental policy, sustainable development. Coordinator and co-author of more than 60 scientific projects and spatial plans., of more than 900 items of scientific and professional publications of different character, more than 300 scientific and professional presentations at conferences. Editor and co-author of the Landscape Atlas of the Slovak Republic, (2002). Teaching experiences at the Roskilde University Centre, Universität für Bodenkultur, Wien, Technische Universität, Wien, Szt. István Egyetem, Gödöllő. Minister of the environment (1998-2006), member of the Parliament (2006-2010). President of the Governing Council of UNEP – 1999 – 2001, president of the Bureau of the 4th Conference of the Parties of the Convention of the Biological Diversity (1999 – 2001), president of the 1st Global Environmental Forum 2000, Göteborg. Vice- chairman of the scientific council of the ECNC (1995 - 1999). President of the European Association of Landscape Ecology (2009 – 2011).